Dear Mr. [redacted]

Thank you for your letter of 28 October expressing interest in employing the 10 blind persons trained as transcriber-translators by Georgetown University under contract from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) and from CIA.

Although CIA has decided to retain this first group, there is a second group of blind students currently being trained at Georgetown [redacted] These students will be available for testing at the end of January and will graduate at the end of the summer.

Additionally, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is considering training future classes of blind persons in languages [redacted]

Should NSA wish to test any of the second group of students currently at Georgetown or to influence the training of blind students in additional languages, it is suggested that NSA contact directly Dr. Leon Dostert, Director of Special Language Projects, Georgetown University. This Agency would be pleased to assist in establishing such direct NSA contacts with Georgetown and with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, as may be useful.

Yours truly,

10/11/63
